Principal's Blog – Week 6

As I reflect on my first half term at Q I am astounded by the number and variety of trips, events, opportunities and achievements that the girls have experienced. It has been a half term full of energy and positivity and I have enjoyed every moment as I am sure the girls and staff have too.

Year 9 – Outward Bound in Mersea

At the end of September, Year 9 girls travelled to Mersea in Essex for two days of outward bound activities, including high ropes, potholing, fire building and marshmallow toasting. Read extracts from the reports written by some of the girls who took part.

DNA – Edge-of-the-seat thriller from Queenswood Drama Scholars

Queenswood's Drama Scholars and Principal's Award Holders staged an incredibly powerful production of Dennis Kelly's modern classic, DNA, on Monday 10 and Tuesday 11 October. The play told the story of young students' increasingly macabre attempts to cover up a terrible mistake...

'Jam Boy' Fraser Doherty MBE wows Queenswood's Sixth Form

As part of the Sixth Form Lecture Programme, students were lucky enough to hear Fraser Doherty tell his inspirational story on Friday 7 October. Fraser is the founder of SuperJam, the 100% fruit jam company. He started the company at the age of fourteen, using his Gran's recipes.

Best-Selling author Jacqueline Harvey talks to Year 7

On Thursday 6 October, best-selling author Jacqueline Harvey – author of the Alice-Miranda and Clementine Rose series of books, visited Queenswood to talk to Year 7 about her work as a writer. She answered many questions from the floor about her processes and inspirations, and signed stacks of books after the talk.
