Queenswood musicians record at Angel Studios

Queenswood's musicians were extremely privileged to spend a day at the historic and world-renowned Angel Studios on Wednesday 1 February, recording a diverse range of pieces for a new album. The girls were made to feel so relaxed in Studio One, where so many international and award-winning music makers have recorded over the years.

Random Acts of Kindness

We have been marking Random Acts of Kindness week here at Queenswood. Girls and staff have been making countless gestures of selflessness and compassion, from baking brownies for the class to placing secret literary gifts around the school.

Kitty Hart-Moxon OBE: A lesson from history for Sixth Formers

On 3 February, Holocaust survivor Kitty Hart-Moxon OBE visited Queenswood as part of the Sixth Form Lecture series, and delivered a spell-binding talk to both year groups. Kitty has a truly astonishing story to tell. She and her mother both survived more than two years of unimaginable horrors in Auschwitz-Birkenau.

OQ Hannah Williams competes alongside Usain Bolt

Former Queenswood Sports Scholar Hannah Williams is currently in Australia, competing in the first ever Nitro Athletics event. Hannah, who has competed at the IAAF World Junior Championship and World Youth Championship over the past two years, is currently fourth on the UK junior indoor 400m all-time list.

More medals for ace swimmer Chloe

Talented swimmer Chloë Berko-Boateng (Year 9) has enjoyed tremendous success over the last few weekends. At the Herts ASA County Championships 2017, Chloë secured the Silver Medal for 50m Fly and the Bronze Medal for 200m Breast, in the 14-year-old age group.
